YOU need the service we render in the matter of good clothes. It's a service nobody else can render you; because nobody else has

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes in this town; and we think nobody else has quite the same idea we have about the proper functions of a clothing store.

Our idea is to see that our customers get exactly what they ought to have; if you come here we'll try to show you what will be really best for you; the color, the style, the weave, the model that is best suited to your special case. We'll try not to think we know more about what you want than you do. But we do know something about styles, and best fabrics; and we can tell if a suit or overcoat looks right on you; fits properly; is becoming to you.

It's just as much to our interest as to yours to get you into the right thing. We can afford to be disinterested about these things; but we can't afford to let you go anywhere else for clothes when we know we've got the best clothes made.

DEMOCRATIC ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT

THE BIG END OF THE CAMPAIGN WHERE THE WORK IS BE-DONE.

With the democratic newspapers of the state lined up solidly for the party; with almost every independent paper espousing its cause, with speakers in every locality and literature flying through the mails to thousands of voters; Democracy faces the brightest prospects in the coming November election.

Probably never before in the political history of a western state have the newspapers taken such an active interest or played such an important part in a political campaign. In this election they have come to the foreground. Without them the democratic campaign committee would have been powerless, while with their assistance the democratic campaign committee has framed a campaign and is executing its plans, which insure victory.

In the Advertising Room.

Recognizing that the newspapers are with them, it has been easy for the special writers to mould democratic dope, and to write matter which is at once truthful and readable. Working in conjunction with these writers, the heads of the mailing department are daily sending out thousands of pamphlets. Thirty-five stenographers and fifty wrappers are busy on this work. The department has sent out 500,000 personal letters, 1,500,000 pieces of literature, 350 cartoons, cuts of various candidates and 300 special cuts.

Articles by Hon. Lee Cruce, Gov. Haskell, John R. Williams, Senator Gore, W. F. Kerr, State Editor of the Oklahoman, Don Lawhead, Manager Advertising Department, John Olive, Assistant Advertising Manager, J. W. Fleumer of the Muskogee-Times Democrat and Duff Tillery, and other writers are sent out daily. Also a weekly letter by Luther Hanson.

Also copies of Mr. Cruce's speech, of Gov. Haskell's Alva speech, "Appeal for Sustaining the Constitution" by John R. Williams, folders giving tax comparisons, "Men Whom You All Know" campaign book, statistical campaign book; railroad circulars; "Who's Who" folders; "Joe McNeal Outlaw" folders, "Leopard Spots" folders; "Grandfather Clause" folders, "School Land Folders," and "Sunshine and Prosperity" folders, are flooding the mails.

What We See.

As one enters the office of the advertising departments, the first scene presented is that of a long line of old veterans, who should have retired years ago, but who are on the job for the party's welfare. These are wrappers and folders. The next scene, is that of some twenty husky chaps, who should be holding plow handles, but who instead are pounding typewriters at a terrific pace.

Almost before one ceases to admire the vigor which these chaps put into their strokes of the key board, a scene presents itself which holds the attention of the most hardened politician. It's that of some score of young ladies, seated in a semi-circle, with their backs to the door and facing the wall. These too are hammering typewriters, as though every minute meant a vote. Once in a while one will smile to her neighbor and exchange a word, but as the neighbor is invariably also a young lady, conversation drags.

Last but not least the question of getting the money enters into every campaign. This J. D. Langford, Robt. Galbraith, and Secretary W. R. Samuels have solved to a nicety. In a letter to the precinct committeemen at the beginning of the campaign Mr. Samuel asked these committeemen to collect fifty cents from ten voters in their precinct. This was easy in most cases and has almost furnished sufficient money for all requirements.

Temperance Benefit.

Thursday evening at the City Hall will be presented one of the greatest scenes from one of Shakespeare's greatest tragedies. In Act 1, Scene V, of Macbeth or better known as the Letter Scene, Lady Macbeth analyzes Macbeth's character as no critic has been able to do.

Mrs. Perle Dunham McGurran has had much experience in the interpretation of Shakespeare and many consider this number alone worth the price of admission. Those who love fun will not be disappointed for a large part of the evening will be devoted to humor. We publish a few testimonials from those who have had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. McGurran in recital.

"Miss Perle Dunham's rendition of 'The Star Spangle Banner' at the Peace Jubilee services, held at our church, was very thrilling and inspiring. Miss Dunham (Mrs. McGurran) is undoubtedly a read of marked ability and merits much success. Her bearing is modest, gestures graceful, voice musical and her entire reading natural and unassuming."—Wm. H. Head, Pastor Langley Methodist church, Chicago.

Perle Lucille Dunham (McGurran) is amply prepared to render any selection with the feeling of the author. She recited both solemn and merry, sad and rollicking with ease being repeatedly encored. If she should give another recital in this place, we can assure her another crowded house."—Florence Herald.

Mrs. M. L. Manville, who assists in this recital is possessed of an unusually sweet voice and her many friends will come out to hear her.

Carter Foresees a Great Victory.

Durant, Okla., Oct. 30.—Congressman Charles D. Carter, who spoke here while making a two-day tour of Bryan county, reports unusual interest manifested in politics throughout his district.

"For a time," says Congressman Carter, "it looked as if the people were not awake to the danger to the democratic party, but for the past week or ten days the enthusiasm has shown a decided increase."

"I believe that if we have favorable weather from now until election day the largest democratic vote ever given in the state will be polled. The boys don't seem to be disposed to take any chances on the outcome. They are working everywhere."

WILL BE HEARD TODAY

GRANDFATHER CLAUSE BEING CONSIDERED BY FEDERAL JUDGES.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 30.—With Judge Walter H. Sanborn of St. Paul, senior United States circuit judge, presiding, the United States circuit court will convene in Oklahoma City at 10 o'clock Monday morning for the purpose of hearing arguments in the federal case involving the validity of the limited suffrage law, adopted by the voters of Oklahoma last August. As the law provides three federal judges shall sit in cases where it is asked that a state be enjoined from enforcing a statute the two judges of the federal court of Oklahoma, Ralph Campbell of Muskogee of the eastern district and John H. Cotteral of Guthrie of the western district, will serve with Judge Sanborn.

The case that will come before the United States court is that of Daniel Sims of Guthrie, an ex-slave, who seeks to compel P. R. Finch, election inspector of the Fourth ward of Guthrie, to permit the plaintiff to register and vote at the election in November. He claims that under the grandfather clause, or limited suffrage amendment, adopted at the primary election in August, the inspector of election has refused to permit him to register for the general state election in November. As candidates for the house of representatives are to be voted on at this election, the case is under federal jurisdiction.

Sims will be represented by Judge John H. Buford of Guthrie, former chief justice of the territory of Oklahoma, and John Devereux of Guthrie. The state has not as yet made an appearance, the time for same being 10 o'clock Monday morning, when the court opens. Attorney General West is expected to appear for the state.

Court will be held in the rooms at 222 1-2 West Main street, where quarters have been secured until the federal building is completed.

Harry L. Finley of Guthrie, clerk of the United States circuit court, arrived in Oklahoma City Sunday night to be in readiness for the opening of court. The three judges are expected Monday morning. Chief Deputy Chris Madsen of Guthrie will be the executive officer of the court.

Judge Sanborn of St. Paul, who will preside, is the senior circuit judge of the United States, and, with a single exception, is the first circuit judge to hold court in Oklahoma. The exception was the three-cent passenger rate case, which was decided by Judge Hook at Guthrie.

Club Women at Muskogee.

The second annual meeting of the Women's Federated Clubs of Oklahoma will meet tomorrow at Muskogee. A lengthy and interesting program has been prepared and a fine meeting is anticipated. Among the subjects to be considered are education, social hygiene, public health, child labor law, woman suffrage. Among the more prominent ladies on the program and occupying important positions are Mesdames Tom Hope, J. B. Wall and Gertrude Thompson of Ada.

Tecumseh Wins Point.

Shawnee, Ok., Oct. 29.—Yesterday evening Judge J. H. Woods received a telegram from Referee Martin stating that he had overruled Shawnee's demurrer to Tecumseh's testimony in the county seat matter on the ground that Tecumseh had made a prima facie case. As Tecumseh's evidence is all in, it is now incumbent on the city of Shawnee to submit its testimony and evidence in the case as a rebuttal to Tecumseh's testimony. The referee will within a few days set a day for the presentation of Shawnee's case.

No Census Returns for Ada Yet.

Ada people have been on the anxious bench for sometime waiting for the report on the census returns. A few days ago we wrote to the director in regard to the matter and in reply he states that the officials figures of the town have not been prepared yet. However, he promised to send them to us in a short time.

W. S. Kerr for County Clerk.

Sam Kerr, the democratic nominee for county clerk, comes before the people for re-election with a good record of efficient service rendered during the past three years. He was no stranger to the people of Pontotoc county when nominated for his first term and during his term of office he has met practically every man in the county and increased his number of friends in a remarkable degree. His position has not been a soft snap by a long shot. With a new and unfamiliar condition to meet he has made himself master of every detail and during a second term can fill the office with far more ability than any new man can. The democratic voters showed their confidence in him by renominating him, and now the voters of the county can do no better work than to give him a rousing big majority next week.

Joe McNeal Coming.

Joe McNeal, republican nominee for governor, will be here Thursday to address the voters. Not many of us agree with him politically, but he will receive all the courtesy from our people due a man holding the place he occupies. No man has ever had reason to complain of ill treatment at the hands of Ada people.

Huff Boys Released.

The examining trial of the Huff boys at Chickasha resulted in Carl and Will being released on $500 bond and Lon being discharged. A plea of self-defense was entered and it was established that the man who was disfigured with a knife was trying to use a gun.

EXAMPLES OF GRIT.

I always admire the foresight in the boy or girl who is working against heavy odds in the endeavor to get an education. Such a one deserves the respect and encouragement of every right thinking person.
 It is something trying to be forced to rise early and work late, wear old clothes and deny one's self many pleasures of life while trying to stay in school, and many a boy who thinks only of his present comfort gives up the fight and goes out into the world only half prepared for the battles of life.

I recall two instances in particular that came under my knowledge that go far towards proving that any boy can get an education and enrich his whole life if he has no one but himself to look after and has any nerve. The first of these came to the school I was attending some twenty-four years ago. He was the son of a widow, and most of his life had been spent punching cattle in the effort to make a living for his mother and younger brothers. He was rather low in his classes at first, and although he had to work for his board and tuition, he was soon advancing from class to class far ahead of any of his more fortunate school mates. Finishing at that school he managed to scrape up some $55 and took the train for Nashville, Tenn., where he entered Vanderbilt university. The tuition charges of that school amount to almost $100 annually, but for six years he kept at his books, first completing the literary course and then taking two years in the law department. Not only did he maintain himself but was also able to send money to his mother nearly every month. He began his law practice in Nashville and is today one of the most prominent men in the state.

The other was a young tough not far from twenty-five years of age.
 He had a habit of going on a tear occasionally and simply painting the little village red. Finally he came under the influence of the principal of the public school who had himself known what hardship meant, and decided to quit his foolishness. He started to school and was placed in the third or fourth grade. He was often laughed at and ridiculed by those who thought it funny to see a man with whiskers on his face reciting with primary pupils, but before some of them had finished the course he was ahead of them. For ten successive years he kept grinding. From the public school to the college, thence to the A. & M. college of Texas for a two years course in civil engineering and then another year of post graduate work before he was ready to go out into the world. He was thirty-five years old, but since then his success has placed him over the heads of hundreds of others who had been at work long before he had left school. When I first knew him he was janitor of the college and rather seedy in his appearance, and was bating it in order to save expense, but in spite of that he finished at the head of his class.

The discipline of this rigorous manner of life was probably worth as much to these boys as what they learned in school. All their resourcefulness was developed and J. Pierpont Morgan himself never worked harder on a problem in high finance than they did in their endeavor to pick up a few dollars and make them go the limit in paying expenses.

When the present campaign opened for resubmission, the whiskey crowd attempted to buy up the papers of the state. Of course space is the stock in trade of the press, but it gratifying to note that a large per cent of the papers refused to sell their space for any such purpose, preferring to take up the fight against resubmission for the sake of principle, and without getting a dollar for it.

McNeal charged Lee Cruce with having like himself signed railroad appeal bonds. Cruce promptly offered to withdraw from the race if he would prove it. Although his withdrawal would have placed McNeal in the governor's chair, no proof has yet been submitted, and the republicans have shut up about it.

"Haskell and West lost the 2-cent rate for Oklahoma," says the State Capital. Who lost it in Missouri?
 Guess Haskell lost that too.

The tactics of the republican managers and speakers of Oklahoma remind me of a bunch of coyotes that used to range near my home in western Texas. They made a dickens of a racket out in the mesquites among themselves but when the faithful old watchdog headed their way their howls quickly died away in the distance. The republicans make a lot of fuss about the democrats and their cussedness, but when it comes to debating the issues of the day they are not there. However, they show wisdom equal to that of the coyotes when danger was near.

In the bankers' guide issued by Rand-McNally for 1909 is an advertisement of Joe McNeal's bank of Guthrie. In that advertisement is found the sentence: "Our motto is, Big security and Big interest never break banks!" These words speak for themselves. They throw more light upon the business character of McNeal than all the dope of the Democratic newspapers, and all the speeches of the Democratic orators.

If the State Capital and a few other Republican sheets of its stripe had devoted one quarter of the space to boosting the opportunities Oklahoma offers to all classes that they have devoted to vilifying Haskell and the administration, the state would be many millions better off.
 The unfavorable an erroneous opinions of the state held by outsiders is due altogether to these sheets.

What assurance does Bill Cardwell and his crowd give that licensed saloons will track the law any better than do the bootleggers? The writer lived in several wet towns in Texas and knows that the saloon keeper who tracks the law to the letter is so rare that he would be considered a freak worthy of a dime museum.

Every once in awhile some sentimental fool digs up a proposal to tax old bachelors as a means of forcing them into matrimony. It is our observation that most women are better off single than tied to the average man, anyway.

OKLAHOMA'S COTTON CROP ESTIMATED AT $70,000,000

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 29.—"Oklahoma's cotton crop this year is showing a very favorable increase over that of last year," says Richard Harris of Oklahoma City. "The yield up to Oct.
 18, the date of the government crop report, is greater than that for the year 1909, for the number of bales ginned to that date last year was 329,984, while up to Oct. 18 of this year 419,984 bales have been ginned. The increase is due to a better yield and also to a larger acreage.
 The increase in each of these was about the same, being about 20 per cent."

According to Mr. Harris the cotton is about all made and killing frosts do practically no damage now.
 The average frost mark is Oct. 15.
 The bolls are well opened, too, so there will be less lost in picking.

"I think the total crop will exceed $50,000 bales for the year," said Mr.
 Harris, "which will be an increase over the total number of bales for last year of nearly 300,000. Last year's crop was 560,000 bales. This increase is about equally distributed over the state, though the crop on the east side is slightly better than in the western part this year. The yield is good over the whole state and will average about a third of a bale to an acre.

"Cotton is the best crop for the farmer of Oklahoma," said Mr. Harris, "for it is a cash crop and always salable. This year cotton is selling at about 14c a pound, and if this price keeps up the crop will be worth about $70,000,000. All of this money comes into the state in the form of cash, so that it loosens the money market in Oklahoma to a great extent this year."

Negroes to Stay Away from Polls.

Muskogee, Ok., Oct. 29.—Following the statement given out last night by negro leaders that no attempt to vote by force would be used in the coming election, negro leaders from Wagoner and Muskogee counties met here today in conference and announced that in order to prevent disgrace falling on the negro race and show that they will abide by the law they will remain away from the polls on election day and use their influence to keep the other negroes away.
 All prominent negroes of the two counties attended.

Railroad Building in Oklahoma.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 30.—The Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf Railroad has recently sold $5,500,000 of its bonds in France, according to a letter published here by the state corporation commission. The company is seeking an entrance into the oil fields with an extension of its Coalton branch to Okmulgee, and in addition the survey is being made for the main line extension north to Joplin and later to Kansas City, Mo. During the last week the company made a trackage agreement with the Rock Island to use the latter's track for hauling coal from Lehigh to Wapanucka, a distance of about twenty-five miles. This will give the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf a direct line to the Oklahoma coal fields.

A charter has been issued here to the Texas, Oklahoma and Eastern Railway, with a capital stock of $200-000 and with headquarters at Bismark, Ok. The incorporators are M.
 Dieks, Harry L. Dieks and J. S.
 Fitzpatrick of Kansas City, Mo.; T.
 R. McCartney, B. E. Baxter and J. H.
 Cook of Bismarck. The proposed road is to run from Valiant, Ok., to Bismark, thence east into the lumber country.

A company is being organized to finance an electric interurban between Coffeyville, Kan., and Nowata, Ok., both cities being in the center of the Oklahoma-Kansas oil and gas belt. The intention is to become ultimately a part of the interurban system now operating between Pittsburg, Kans., and Carthage, Mo. The citizens of Coffeyville have promised a bonus for $15,000 for the road.

The Midland Valley, which is contemplating an extension from Arkansas City, Kan., to Wichita during the coming year is ready now to commence the construction of its Glenn Pool branch on to Sapulpa, a distance of ten miles, completing a direct line across the Glenn Pool oil field from east to west.

Gov. Stubbs Speaks for Prohibition.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 30.—Gov. W.
 R. Stubbs of Kansas addressed a mass meeting at Convention Hall here this afternoon in behalf of the proposed state-wide prohibition amendment, which will be voted on at the November election.

The purpose of the governor's speech was to answer the arguments issued by anti-prohibition leaders that prohibition has injured Kansas and that the law is not enforced in that state.

"If any brewer or distiller," declared Gov. Stubbs, "can show me a saloon or open joint in Kansas I will close it at once or resign."

The speaker read letters from mayors and judges in various parts of Kansas to prove that the prohibitory law is effective and that since it has been rigidly enforced bank deposits have increased, crime has decreased, real estate has risen in value and general business conditions have improved.

A Man May Be a Good Mechanic

But if he is provided with inferior tools and poor working facilities he cannot produce good results. We have an up to date shop, well equipped and we make it a point to employ only the best of workmen. Each man is encouraged in the right way to take pride in his work and the result is we deliver clothes to you which you will be proud to wear. We have the famous French Dry Cleaning method for cleaning and renovating garments which is recommended by all good clothes wearers to be the only successful method for cleaning garments, and we have machines which are made especially for that purpose.

French Dry Cleaning does not injure or fade the most delicate fabrics or get the canvass or padding in your coat out of shape, or wear your clothes out as the scrubbing process does, but is a thorough and sanitary process which leaves your clothes in as good shape as when new. Yours for biz,

The man who makes a bill and pays it reluctantly and grumbles about it, is either a very unthoughtful man or else a bad man at heart. If you buy anything on credit, you have been extended a courtesy, and no man of good manners will mistreat a gentleman who has shown him a courtesy. Good manners, common sense, in fact, ordinary decency, demand that you pay your debts as pleasantly and as respectfully as you made the bills. If you have it in for anybody don't take it out on the poor bill collector.—Ex.

Bishop Denny Will Visit Ada.

Rev. Collins Denny, D.D., L.L.D., of Nashville, Tenn., one of the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, will preach at the First Methodist church of this city tomorrow (Tuesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Bishop Denny is one of the strong men of the church, and one of the great preachers of the nation. Oklahoma is a part of his episcopal district, and Ada is one of the fortunate towns favored with a visit. The members of the Methodist church are very much pleased to welcome and to hear him, and extend a very cordial invitation to all the people of the city to attend the services Tuesday evening.

But Few Booze Venders in Enid.

The office of the Internal Revenue collector at Leavenworth, Kansas, shows that seven citizens of Enid hold licenses. When we had licensed saloons Enid had more than thirty citizens who paid revenue license, twenty-five of which were open saloons at all times.

We had an idea there were more licenses than the above mentioned from what we had heard people talking.—Enid Wave-Democrat.

Murdered Woman Not Mrs. Baldwin.

We are informed that the dispatch in Saturday's paper to the effect that the headless body of the woman found near Coalgate might be that of Mrs. Chas. Thus another clue fails.

Lem Mitchell for Sheriff.

As an officer and one successful in rounding up bad men, perhaps there is no man in this section of the state better known than Lem Mitchell. Like all other kinds of business the duties of an officer must be learned from experience. No matter how honest a man's intentions may be, he cannot within a few weeks learn the many tricks of criminals and succeed in hunting down the perpetrators of crime. Lem Mitchell has lived here so many years that he knows almost every man in a dozen counties around and the tricks of all suspicious characters are as an open book to him.

His nomination came after two hard fought campaigns. He was beaten by a very narrow margin three years ago and this time he was opposed by some of the best men in the county, but having won the nomination as fairly as any of his opponents could have done, he is entitled to the vote of every man who entered the democratic primary.

Completely Pauperized.

Albert W. Heberd, New York's charity expert, said at a recent dinner:

"The great danger of charity is its pauperizing effect. This effect must be avoided, or the recipients will all become Jack Hanches.

"Jack Hanch, on the score of bad health, never worked, and the pastor of the Methodist church, a man whose heart sometimes outran his head, sent the idler and his family weekly gifts of food and clothing—supported the whole crew, in fact.

"A church visitor, after listening to Jack's complaints one day said:

"Yes, of course, you have had bad health, we know that; but one thing at least you ought to be thankful for and that is our pastor's kindness in sending you all the bread and meat and jelly and blankets and so on. Don't you think it's good of him to look after you so well?"

"Good for him?" said Jack impatiently. "Why, what's he for?"—Washington Star.

Would Matters Be Improved?

From the way a few papers express themselves on the liquor amendment, it would seem that they attempt to say that with a high license system there will be no violations of law. The inference from their line of argument is that the open saloon would be a panacea for all the ills they charge against prohibition. If they expect sane people to believe that there will be less drunkenness, less crime and less violations of law with open saloons we believe they have reckoned falsely. In this connection, it might be in order to ask those papers who it is that is daily violating the laws of the state. Is it the prohibitionists or the bootleggers? It requires no great amount of talent to divine the answer, for every one familiar with the history of crime knows that the great majority of criminals belong to the class that oppose prohibition. True, there are many good men who are opposed to prohibition. We do not mean to say that all who oppose prohibition are criminals. Neither do we say that all those who claim to favor prohibition are good citizens, but we'll submit to every candid man if it is not a fact that least seventy-five per cent of the law violators are opposed to prohibition. This being true, is it not a fact that those who now violate the law under prohibition will also violate the law under a high license system? Prohibition is not responsible for crime; it is the lack of prohibition that fills the jails of the country and burdens the people with court expenses.—Allen Hustler.

Buffalo Herds Growing.

The American Bison Society in its annual report declares that the danger of the extermination of the American buffalo has passed.

There are about 2108 bison in the United States now, according to the report and they are multiplying rapidly. The report says the tide of extermination has been stemmed and that within ten years the herds will increase ten fold.

The nucleus herd is fenced on a government reserve range in Montana. The last of the bison graze in this ground free from the danger of hunters' rifles. A six-foot wire fence keeps them on the range.

"Kalispe Chief," a huge animal from Gallispe, Mont., is chief of the herd.

The herd roams the great range at will and each year finds it increased remarkably. The society is well pleased with the outlook for the future of the species.

Katy Is Facing a Water Famine.

Denison, Tex., Oct. 30.—The M. K. & T. railway company is facing one of the most severe water famines in Texas and Oklahoma in the history of the road. The company is experiencing great difficulty in obtaining water from Hillsboro north on both the Dallas and Fort Worth divisions, and three freight trains were tied up at Durant, Okla., today for lack of water.

Nearly all freight trains operated south out of Denison carry extra tank cars next to the engine and passenger trains are unable to maintain schedules.

More Than 1,000,000 Attend Dallas Fair.

The Dallas News states that the recent state fair was the most successful in its history and that the attendance totaled up 1,000,000. The state of Texas has profited much from this institution. It has been a great drawing card that has brought many homeseekers and industries to Texas.

Believing the Worst.

If Sam Bernard is to be believed, says the Cincinnati Times-Star, one of the most common sins to which a frail humanity is prone is that of believing the worst in any given case. "There's my friend Jones," said Bernard. "I met Jones wabbling up Broadway the other night. Just before I got to him Jones sought the comparative shelter of a lamp post. He giggled at me weakly when I touched him on the shoulder.

"Come on, Jonesie," said I, "I'll take you up to the hotel and put you to bed."

"Jonesie looked at me for a moment and then he awoke. How far's the hotel from here?" he asked.

"About five minutes' walk."

"Huh," said Jonesie, nodding his head. "Fifteen minutes' walk, huh? F'r you or f'r me?"

"Now, I know what your conclusion is. You think that Jones was drunk, but how do you know he didn't have a wooden leg? One should always practice the virtue of charity. You remember the time that Admiral Bob Evans, walking down Broadway, came to one of his quartermasters. The sailor straightened up and saluted. Admiral Evans looked down and there lay another quartermaster, asleep in the gutter.

"Drunk, eh?" said Evans.

"Oh no, sir," said the erect quartermaster, deprecatingly. "Oh, I wouldn't call him drunk sir. I just seen him move his fingers a little."

Origin of Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en or All Hallow Eve, sometimes called nutcrack and snap-apple night, is a curious recrudescence of classic mythology, Druidic beliefs and Christian superstitions. On Nov. 1 the Romans had a feast to Pomona, the goddess of fruits and seeds, and it was then that the stores laid up in summer for use in winter were opened. From this comes the appropriateness of the use of nuts and apples.

Nov. 1, or thereabouts, was also the great autumn festival of the sun, which the Druids celebrated in thanksgiving for their harvest. The Druids lighted bonfires in honor of the event, and this custom is carried out to the letter by young Americans of today.

From time to time the manner of celebrating these fetes was changed, until at present the spirit of devastation in young America is pretty well loosened and owners of gates and kindred articles generally find them the morning after on top of a telephone pole or miles down the street.

Some Election Rules.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 30.—Success or failure of the propositions being separately submitted at the general election Nov. 8 will not depend upon the highest number of votes cast for a particular office or proposition, but upon the number of electors participating in the election. All state questions, except the referendum on the Bryan election law, are required to receive a majority of all the votes cast in the election before being effective. Referendums only require a majority of votes cast on the particular question referred. In order to determine the former, however, the State election board has furnished precinct officers with blanks upon which to report the number of voters who offer ballots, which will, in fact, be the number of votes cast in the election. The rule is laid down in the Checotah-McIntosh county seat election case, decided by the supreme court.

NORMAL Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A. TO ENTERTAIN THIS EVENING

The Young Men and Young Women's Associations of the normal will entertain the student body of the normal this evening from 7 to 11. The committee on arrangements has been working hard all day preparing for the occasion. All sorts of spooks, witches and other Hallowe'en features will be present and add their part to the evening.

Cotton Wagons Not So Numerous

Cotton wagons are no so much in evidence now as they were a few days back. It serves to remind us that the season is drawing to a close. The fine weather this fall has permitted the crop to be gathered very rapidly and it is estimated that about 75 per cent of it is out.

Sixty Cotton Bales Burn.

About 2 p. m. yesterday sparks from the engine set a lot of cotton on the railroad platform at Centrahoma on fire. Sixty bales of cotton were consumed and the north bound passenger was delayed something like an hour and one half by the fire.
